Too Few Vote

Although an all-time record of 1,105,906 votes was cast in Texas in the July 24 Democratic primary, it was short of what it should have been taking the increase in Texas' population into consideration. The previous record was 1,189,290 in a primary vote for governor in 1940 according to the Texas Election Bureau.

El Paso County cast slightly more than 60 per cent of its qualified vote on July 24, last. The total of 19,313 was a record for this county, but it should have been considerably higher.

In the 16th Congressional District where more than 69,000 persons had obtained poll tax receipts or exemptions, only 45,682 votes were cast on July 24 in the race between Ken Regan and Woodrow Bean.

In Washington a few days ago, Rep. W. R. Poage of Waco said there was the greatest political apathy in Texas he had ever seen. He said where some years ago "Pappy" O'Daniel got 20,000 to hear him in Waco, Lyndon Johnson this year could not get out 200. Poage said people are making too much money and are therefore indifferent to politics.

If that be true, a danger sign is being waved before our eyes. A nation, a state, a county, or a municipality, usually gets the kind of government and the kind of men in public office that it deserves.

Anytime anyone thinks he is making too much money to be bothered with voting he is asking for trouble.

The only way we can be certain that we will have a government of the people is for the people to vote in large and convincing numbers.—El Paso Herald.

FIRST NORTHER BRINGS TEMPERORARY RELIEF

(From the Daily)

Whether you have noted or not it is a little cooler.

A cold mass of air moved down during the night as far south as Louisiana and central Texas with some scattered rains.

It was 102 degrees in Cameron Sunday and the night was one of the worst the people have endured in years.

The cool air movement was slow. A small shower of rain fell around 10 p. m. and around 6 a. m. a north wind came in very gentle and increased to about 10 miles an hour.

The weather will be very warm Monday night and the relief will be only temporary. On the whole the weather should get cooler during the next few weeks.

There still was no prospect of rain.

PEOPLE WITH MATCHES ARSONITES AT LARGE

Arsonites are a peculiar breed of people. In a broad general sense they mean no harm. They are just plain, ordinary people without linchpins in their logic.

They throw lighted cigarettes out car windows, they set grass afire. They are abroad with matches. The sireen is a symphony and the blaze as comforting as the halocust at Ninevah was to Jonah who lay under the gourd vine and watched firemen hurry along the swooning plazas.

Yes, folks are funny. They are downright dangerous when they are abroad with matches. There are other types who fit into the picture. They jump in their cars and beat Firemen to the blaze. They park on top fire plugs, run over hose lines and geenrally do everything possible to see that only the lot is saved when the nest catches on fire from a grass blaze set by the little woman who thought no harm could come of it.

Cameron was having a good time, three or four grass fires a day, some homes on fire and the Firemen running around every few minutes at the risk of their lives. Now on Monday the Homer Allen home was on fire a few minutes but saved by the firemen. There was a grass fire at Skeezix and another one at the Mack Oil Company. On Sunday the Tom Howdy home was saved from a grass blaze and the Mikulec smoke house on the Buckholts road was burned to the ground.

Out at Yarrellton Tuesday morning a fire broke out in the gin but was quickly extinguished.

The Herald estimates it has warned the people, upon request of the Firemen, at least a thousand times in 25 years to be careful. They arm themselves with matches to fight back safety rules. They'll show us! No harm to set grass afire on a dry windy day, especially if there are homes in its path. The firemen get exercise and the arsonites get a thrill.

MRS. LILLIE KLEPKA FUNERAL ON TUESDAY

The body of 50 year old Mrs. Lillie Klepka of near Yarrellton was found early Monday morning in a tank near her home by members of the household who began a search when they discovered her missing from the house.

According to information reaching The Daily Herald she had been dead for several hours. Mrs. Klepka had been in ill health for sometime and was under treatment by a Cameron physician. It was believed she became despondent.

B. G. Rice, Justice of Peace for Precinct 7, conducted an inquest early Monday morning and later in the forenoon was in Cameron to file the verdict.

Mrs. Klepka is believed to have left her room sometime around midnight and may have been dead about 6 hours when her body was discovered in the tank.

Funeral services were to be held at 10 a. m. on Tuesday with interment in the North Elm Cemetery. The body was at the Marek-Burns Funeral Home.

Surviving are her husband and several children.

HARVEST BRISK AND THE CROP IS SHORT

A total of 2300 bales of new 1948 cotton had been received at the Cameron Compress up to Tuesday morning.

This figure indicates the rapidity of the harvest. So far no labor difficulties have been encountered.

The crop is being harvested quickly and the crop is short. It was estimated in the beginning that the crop in Milam county was about 65 per cent normal. That figure now seems high because of the continued unfavorable weather.

The price of cotton was keeping steady despite the big estimate by the government. Farmers generally were betting their crop against the possibility of error and were taking the government loans.

There was little chance now that rain would come to stave off drouth and heat devastation.

ADOPTING COUNTY BUDGET

SEEKING NEW DRAFT BOARD HERE

BABY IS BEATEN TO DEATH

NO CHANGES EXPECTED IN COUNTYTAX RATE

Members of the Commissioners Court were at work Wednesday with County Judge Dan Tyson and County Auditor Conn R. Isaacs, fixing the county budget for 1948.

The matter of the budget occurs annually in August. Citizens generally pay no attention to the noise which is published each year giving the dates on which the court will sit to adopt the budget and invite tax payers to appear if they so desire.

Based upon the budget requirements the tax rate in the county is fixed. It was expected that no changes would occur. Assessments have generally gone down over a period of years. Values have not been put on the tax rolls in proportion to the increase in prices and values, dating back for ten years or more.

The Commissioners Court sits as a Board of Equalization.

The budget was due to be adopted sometime during the day with all needs briefed by the County Auditor.

CHARGED WITH MURDER BY GRAND JURY HERE

Lonnie Beard of Conoley near Thorndale was indicted by the grand Jury here Thursday when that body returned two bills and adjourned.

Beard's indictment charges him with murder with malice afterthought This indictment rules out suggestion of self defense. According to officers Beard shot his son in law, Noel D. Martin on July 13 at his home.

The men had visited Thorndale and there had quarreled and upon their return to the Beard home Martin and wife left for their home at Roundrock. A short way out on the road Martin turned back and was shot as he entered the yard of the Beard home.

Martin died shortly after reaching a Taylor hospital.

It was said here at the time of the killing that an old family row had caused the resumption of the trouble, dating back to a fight between Martin and Beard's son.

CHAMBER COMMERCE IS ASKED TO AID

The Chamber of Commerce in Cameron has been asked to make recommendations for personnel of a 3 man draft board for Milam county.

A recent appointment of three men by the Governor failed when the men declined to serve. They are Judd G. Davis, Giles A. McDermott of Cameron and John Weed of Rockdale.

During the late war when vacancies occured on a draft board the Chamber of Commerce made recommendations. Since the time is very limited and with registration to begin on August 30 little time was to be lost in searching out 3 victims for this thankless job.

Resignations have been widespread over Texas. A member of a draft board must be over 30 years of age.

The Milam county Board will be No. 92 and will be located at Cameron. In the late war there were 2 boards one here and one in Rockdale.

The State convention will be held in Fort Worth on September 14. Here is the resolution adopted by the county convention here:

Whereas, we, the Democrats of Milam County, Texas, are mindful of the great crisis that impends as the fateful issue is joined between the slave-world and free-world, and

Whereas, in the coming National General Election to be held in November of 1948, there is to be chosen a President of these United States of America, from the ranks of one of the two great political parties of our Nation, and

Whereas, we, the Democrats of Milam County, Texas, feel that it is to the best interest of our party and of our Nation that the Democratic Party of the United States and of Texas bind themselves closer together for the common good of our Party and of our Nation, and

MOTHER IS HELD FOR MURDER AFTER BEATING

DALLAS, Aug. 17—Mrs. Peggy Mae Pappas, an expectant mother, was charged with murder today in the fatal beating of her four-year-old son, Larry.

The boy died Saturday. Mrs. Pappas, wife of an unemployed cook, made a statement to authorities purportedly admitting that she beat him with an electric iron cord Saturday.

Police homicide officers said her statement added that Larry developed convulsions after the beating and she gathered him in her arms, running for the bathroom of the tourist cabin where the family had been living since it moved here from Washington, D. C., in mid-July.

On the way to the bathroom, where she intended to give Larry a shower, the statement said, Larry's head was accidentally bumped against the door facing.

George Pappas, 28, her husband, found Larry's body when he returned to the cabin Saturday afternoon. The Pappas' carried their son to Parkland Hospital, where doctors told them Larry had been dead for two hours.

Pappas talked to reporters this morning as the murder charge was being filed. He said his wife was "high tempered" and nervous and "sometimes" beat Larry with the iron cord.

"I never beat him, myself," said Pappas.

Dr. J. M. Picard, city health physician, examined Mrs. Pappas and confirmmed her statement to officers that she was expecting another child. Pickard also advised the district attorney's office that his examination indicated the mother was sane.

Bank Robber Takes $5000 From Bank At Rice Near Corsicana

A fast working bank robber took $5000 from the bank at Rice near Corsicana in Navarro county around noon Wednesday and made his escape.

Working alone, the man walked into the bank about 12:15 when assistant cashier S. B. South was alone. Drawing an automatic pistol he walked behind the counter, handed South a money sack and told him to "fill it up."

Sheriff David Castles said the bandit walked out a few minutes later with $750 in one dollar bills, $2,500 in five and ten dollar bills and about $1,750 in $20 bills.

The man, described as 40 to 50 years old and five feet 10 or 11 inches tall, ordered South into the vault and told him to remain there ten minutes.

As soon as South heard the man pull away in his car—a 1942 dark blue Ford, according to the sheriff—he came out of the vault and called authorities.

Thos. J. White of Houston spent the week end with relatives in Cameron and was accompanied home by his wife and three sons who had been visiting here and in Burlington for the past two weeks.

Former Milam Farmer At 103 Years Has An Operation

DALLAS, Aug. 11—Perry G. Brook goes home Friday after a major operation, and if everybody feels as good as he does, says Brook, they're "jist a-doin' fine."

Brook is 103 years old.

Never took a drop of medicine in his life until he was in middle age, 90, that is, said the spry old man. But kidney trouble necessitated the operation.

"He is in fine physical shape," his doctor said, adding thoughtfully, "I never saw anything like it."

He didn't like it when nurses tied a sheet across his bed to keep him from falling out.

"I fit them Yankees all through the war between the states," he growled. "I ain't ever been tied yet."

He said he was born in Tennessee Nov. 14, 1844 and has been in Texas 63 years. He began farming in Milam county and about seven years ago moved to north Texas. He now lives in a rest home at Lancaster and is "a-rarin' to go home."

JUST BOY

After a male baby outgrows long dresses and triangles, and acquires pants, freckles and so much dirt that relatives don't dare to kiss him, he becomes a boy.

A boy is nature's answer to that false belief that there is no such thing as perpetual motion. A boy is a growing animal of superlative promise who can swim like a fish run like a deer, climb like a squirrel, balk like a mule, bellow like a bull, eat like a pig, or act like a jackass, according to climatic conditions.

A boy, if not washed too often and kept in a cool, quiet place after each accident, will survive broken bones, hornets, measles, fights and nine helpings of pie.

A boy is a piece of skin stretched over an appetite; a noise covered with smudges. A boy is the problem of our times, the hope of the world. Every boy born is evidence that God is not yet discouraged with men.—Coronet.

IDOL OF MILLIONS NOW AT BIG PLATE

NEW YORK, Aug. 16—Babe Ruth died tonight.

Death came to baseball's home-run king at 6:01 p. m. (CST) in the Memorial hospital center for cancer and allied diseases.

Death was caused by cancer.

The former New York Yankee star, who was 53, had been ill nearly two years.

He was placed on the hospital's critical list last Wednesday when pulmonary complications, arising from a cold, set in.

Ruth died less than two hours after the hospital reported that he was sinking rapidly.

Wan and in almost constant pain, Ruth entered the hospital last June to undergo further treatment for an illness that had dogged him for nearly two years.

He suffered a relapse last Wednesday. Critically ill ever since, the Babe rallied gamely several times before succumbing to the sickness that had left his once-robust frame a shell.

During each of his hospital stays which were frequent, the colorful home-run king was deluged with messages and phone calls from fans, grief-stricken by his illness.

One call came from the White House last week. President Truman wanted to know how The Babe was doing. Others came in steady succession from his innumerable friends, from celebrities of the sports and theater worlds and from youngsters who wanted "the Babe to get well again."

Letters and telegrams poured in by the thousands. Friends and members of his immediate family read many of them to the ex-slugger who smiled as he listened. But the ones that cheered the Babe most were those from "my kids" — crudely-scrawled notes of encouragement sent by sandlotters, most of whom never had seen him play.

The relapse of the once-mighty slugger came only a day after he had rallied surprisingly and left his bed for 20 minutes to sit in an easy chair for a visit with relatives and intimate friends.

Word that the former home-run king was near death came a few minutes after Ruth had been shown a floral wreath of 37 orchids sent by Hawaiian school-children.

At Ruth's bedside as his condition worsened were his wife, Claire, and his two adopted daughters, Mrs. Daniel Sullivan of New York and Mrs. Richard Flanders of North Conway, N. H.

Ruth entered the hospital last June for further treatment of his illness. He was wan and in almost constant pain from what was described as a throat ailment. The following month however, July 26, he left his sick bed to attend the world premier of "The Babe Ruth Story," a movie based on his life.

In his 22 years as a major league baseball player, Ruth established 76 records and 62 of them still stand today. In regular games, he had hit a total of 708 home runs.

He had started his baseball career as a pitcher—but his hitting power made him more valuable as an outfielder, a position that carried his slugging prowess into ever game.

The last flash of his greatness came 13 years ago in Pittsburgh as Ruth closed out his career with the Boston Braves. In three time to the plate, he pounded out three home runs.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Denker of Austin were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Le Roy Orsag of Cameron for the past week end.

On Wednesday it was 105. Early Friday showers were forecast for the Panhandle and in some sections of north and east Texas. Some scattered rains were reported in the north plains. There was no relief in sight for this area unless something more tangible developed from the weak cool front or the hurricane prospect.

IS SLIGHTLY HIGHER THAN CURRENT PRICE

The loan rate for cotton in Milam county is 30.53 it has just been announced from the offices of the ACA here.

The loan basis calls for 15-16 middling white. It was said that the loan rate is slightly higher than the current market price for basis middling cotton. The government estimate of a crop in excess of 15 million bales caused a drop in the market of some $3 a bale.

Alva E. Sanders, administrative officer, said that farmers interested in placing cotton in the loan can get complete details from cotton ware houses, approved lending agencies or from the ACA offices.

FATHER OF GIRL KILLED BY IKE FLOWERS MAKES STATEMENT!

I am J. L. Phillips, the father of Miss Elizabeth Phillips who was killed by Ike Flowers with an automobile on August 4, 1946. The facts surrounding the conviction of Ike Flowers are well known to the people of McLennan County. The evidence showed that Ike Flowers was drunk on the occasion and not only killed my daughter but killed another young lady and seriously crippled a third one, while on their way to church one Sunday evening.

When it was announced that Flowers had been pardoned, it was stated in the press that Senator Kyle Vick and Representative Sam Sellers had recommended the pardon. After hearing the news I went to see Senator Vick and Representative Sam Sellers. When I talked to Senator Kyle Vick and to Representative Sam Sellers, they both denied that they had recommended the pardon. After I talked to each of them, I made a trip to Austin where I talked to the Board of Pardons and Paroles and personally looked at the records to determine if either of them recommended the pardon and this is what I found:

My investigation revealed that Senator Vick's statement was true and that he did not recommend the pardon and had nothing to do with the granting of it.

I found that the statement of Representative Sellers that he did not recommend the pardon was untrue, and that he did recommend the pardon. In the records I found a letter dated March 3, 1948, written by Sam Sellers in which he recommended a pardon for Ike Flowers.

For the above reasons it is clear that I would not vote for Sam Sellers for any office. I am not personally interested in the race between Senator Vick and Representative Sellers, but believe that an injustice was done Senator Vick, who was in no way responsible for the pardon of Ike Flowers, but that Sam Sellers did recommend a pardon for Flowers.

ONE SHOT AS OTHER SLASHES HIS WRIST

Two Cameron men are in St. Edwards Hospital as the result of self inflicted wounds, it was said here Saturday morning by officers who investigated the attempted suicides.

Truett Chambers, 32, a war veteran who sustained injuries in the North African Campaign, was taken to the hospital shortly after 7 p. m. Friday with a bullet wound in his left lung.

According to information Chambers who follows the occupation of sign painting returned to his home early in the evening and shortly after told Mrs. Chambers that he was going to shoot himself. It was said that a table had been overturned and Mrs. Chambers busied herself with the cleaning up while Chambers went into another room. Shortly after he was found with a 22 rifle and a bullet had entered the left side of the chest, penetrating the lung.

Chambers was rushed to the hospital where it was said he has a chance to recover but was in a critical condition.

Neal Shuffield, 20, is in St. Edwards Hospital with a slashed left wrist and in a serious condition from the loss of blood.

According to Sheriff Black who investigated shortly after Shuffield had cut an artery, the wounded man was picked up from the west lawn of the court house and taken to the hospital.

It was said that Shuffield had purchased some razor blades and inflicted a wound while in the basement of the court house. He walked out of the basement, across the lawn and to the business block across the street where he fell. He got up and walked across the street still slashing at his wrist and fell on the court house lawn.

According to Sheriff Black it was around 12 p. m. when Shuffield made the attempt on his life.

Officers here said that indications were that both men had been drinking heavily.

CONOLEY KILLING IS UNDER CONSIDERATION

The Grand Jury was recalled by Judge John Watson in District Court and was in session Thursday.

It was understood that the recent killing of Noel D. Martin near Conoley, was in major part responsible for the recall of the Jury. Other matters may be pending.

Judge Watson telephoned the Daily Herald to say that he had reconvened the Grand Jury. The jury has been in recess from the May sitting.

Lonnie Beard who lives near Conoley was charged with the slaying of Martin, his son-in-law on July 13. Martin and wife had been visiting in the Beard home. They live near Roundrock in Williamson county.

According to officers Beard and Martin had been quarreling as the result of an old feud in the family between Beard's son and his son-in-law. They had spent several hours in Thorndale on Tuesday, July 13 and had returned to the Beard farm at night. Martin and wife left for their home near Roundrock but a little way out from the farm home Martin turned his car around and went back to the Beard home. According to officers as he entered the yard he was slain with a shotgun. Shortly after Beard surrendered to officers.

SUIT FOR RECOVERY 127 ACRES OF LAND

Bud Johnson of Buckholts has brought suit to recover 127 acres of land which he claims was to be his property following the death of the late Mamie A. Hefley.

Mr. Johnson claims that as a condition of his farming the land until her death, Mr. Hefley agreed that the property was to be his.

There is no contract, it is said, but a verbal agreement which attorneys for Johnson are attempting to prove by witnesses.

Camp & Camp, lawyers, are representing Johnson and Bill Wallace of Cameron and Holland Wallace of Cuero are representing the executors of the Hefley estate. Stanton Dossett of Shreveport, La., and W. T. Hefley of San Antonio, two of the executors are here for the trial of the case, called Monday in District court.

MRS. JOHN N. GARNER IS DEAD AT UVALDE

Mrs. John N. Garner, wife of former Vice President Garner, died late Tuesday at her home in Uvalde.

Burial services were to be held there Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Garner went to Washington with her husband years ago as his secretary and continued with him until he retired from public office in disagreement with the late President Roosevelt over a third term.

Mrs. Garner, it is said, was a close advisor of her husband on political matters. The former vice president, known as "Cactus Jack" was an astute politician in his day. Since his retirement he has taken no part in politics. A recent serial story in Collier's covered the Roosevelt period.

HOPE TO WREST SIX STATES FROM TRUMAN

WASHINGTON, July 18—The entrance of a "Dixiecrat ticket" into the presidential field brought a disputed prediction today that President Truman may lose the support of up to six southern states in the November election.

Senator McClellan (D-Ark.) told a reporter he thinks the southern Democratic rebel ticket may help take the electoral votes of a half dozen southern states away from President Truman and Senator Alben Barkley, his running mate.

The new ticket—Gov. J. Strom Thurmond of South Carolina for president and Gov. Fielding Wright of Mississippi for vice president—was put forth at Birmingham yesterday as one Dixie answer to the President's civil rights program.

McClellan—who fought the President's nomination but did not walk out of the Democratic convention—named Alabama, Mississippi, South Carolina, Florida, Georgia and Tennessee as possible particpants in a bolt he said is almost certain to result in the regular Democratic party's defeat in the presidential election.

He put Tennessee in the list, McClellan said, because of a sharp local division among Democrats there.

He said that if the Thurmond-Wright ticket gets on the ballot in Arkansas it may split the Democratic vote in his home state and give the Republicans some chance of winning there.

But McClellan's prediction drew immediate fire from Senator Hatch (D-NM), close personal friend of the President.

Hatch said he doesn't think the effort to place a fourth party in the field "will be effective in more than one or two states."

The New Mexico senator predicted election of a Truman-Barkley ticket even if some of the southerners don't go along.

DEGREE A DAY RECORD INCREASE KEEPS UP

Cameron had a season high of 105 degrees Wednesday.

Official temperatures for the past 5 days show that the heat has increased a degree a day.

On Saturday, August 7 it was 101 degrees, on Sunday 102, Monday 103, Tuesday 104 and Wednesday 105.

Record breaking temperatures are hard to establish but the official record here shows that it was 113 degrees on August 18, 1909.

High hot winds have continued through the days and at night they become cooler allowing some regree of opportunity for rest and sleep.

There is no prospect for rain. Indications were the heat wave would continue and possibly keep up the record of an increase of one degree a day.

"Red River" Story of First Cattle Drive Over Texas Trail Booked At Cameron Theatre Thursday, Friday, Saturday, August 26, 27, 28

"Red River", the $3,000,000 monumental Howard Hawks Monterey Films production which tells the story of the first cattle drive over he Chisholm Trail from Texas to Abilene, Kansas, following the Civil War in 1886, will have its World Premier showing at the Cameron Theatre on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, August 26, 27, and 28 simultaneously with a four states showing as the Governors of Texas, Oklahoma, New Mexico and Kansas declare a "Chisholm Trail Week." The picture which towers over Cimarron and the Covered Wagon, is the greatest spectacle story of all film-time. It records the forging of a 1,000 mile trail by the men who actually saved Texas from starvation and disintegration. It revals their desperate fight over untold hardships, unknown terrain, Northern border gangs and hostile Indians to finally reach Abilene, Kansas after a mass stampede of more than 10,000 cattle, the largest herd ever used in a motion picture.

Besides telling its story simply and effectively, besides showing pictorially the hardships endured, the mass cattle stampede, the Indian fight, the dramatic crossing of the Red River with the thosands of cattle, this great Epic-Historical-Spectacle motion picture also relates the story of two men, strong-willed and quick tempered Thomas Dunson, played by John Wayne, builder of a cattle empire, and his foster son, quiet, forceful Matthew Garth, played by Montgomery Clift, whose devotion to a principle eventually accounts for the success of the drive.

Perhaps the greatest outdoor scenes ever filmed are perpetuated in this Howard Hawks colorful western story "Red River" which has been made from Borden Chases famous Saturday Evening Post Story. Almost 10,000 cattle are seen on the screen starting the first cattle drive over the Chisholm Trail from San Antonio to Abilene, Kansas. Across the screen moviegoers will see a panorama of cattle stretching almost one mile and a half long and a half mile broad—cattle imported by Hawks from Mexico and surrounding Arizona ranches. Hundreds of horses along with the thousands of cattle were used in the making of Red River over a longer time than ever before attempted in the filming of a motion picture.

To spook or frighten the cattle into stampeding for the necessary scenes in Red River, mechanical means were used, and the result proved effective as the great herd rushed across the vast plains, passing directly in front of six strategically placed cameras which recorded the scene. Ten days were required in filming the stampede, and while Howard Hawk's first unit was filming other portions of Red River, a second unit, headed by director Art Rossen was working entirely with the cattle. Hollywood stunt men were recruited to fall in front of the herd, and the result on celluloid is guaranteed to keep movie fans on the edge of their seats. During the course of the stampede several cowpokes are rescued from in front of the thundering herd, while one wrangler is trampled to death. 55 veteran cow wranglers from Arizona ranges, aided by 10 additional Hollywood experts handled the herd.

While Howard Hawk's Red River company was expending more than $1,000,000 during its two month shooting schedule in Southern Arizona, four huge sound stages at the Samuel Goldwyn studios in Hollywood were being readied for interior scenes to be filmed upon the company's return. Under the direction of art director John Datu, the largest set, 110 feet by 120 feet, was built to show an exact desert exterior, typical of the country in which outdoor scenes for "Red River" were filmed. At a cost of $20,000 the desert set was constructed using 120 tons of sand, 14 feet mesquite from Arizona, and huge, imported rocks.

In other block-long stages on the Golwyn lot, an authentic interior of a ranch house in 1868 was constructed, as well as the interior of a cattle buyer's office in Abilene, Kansas, and the lobby and second floor of the Hotel Royale. Art director Datu constructed the ranch house interior as a replica of the Empire ranch house in Arizona, built in 1840 and purported to be the first in that section of the country.

The reconstruction of the city of Abilene, Kansas, as it stood in 1866 for the making of the picture amazed surrounding ranchers in Elgin, Arizona to no small degree. But they were much more interested in the 1,000 tons of hay stacked outside the camp which were used to feed the cattle, and in the water supply of 80,000 gallons a day; 20,000 gallons for the Red River company itself on location; 35,000 gallons for the thousands of cattle, and the balance for settling dust on shooting locales. As if it were not enough to have the various geographical scenery changes in mind for a location site for the filming of Red River, the location site had to embrace not only the mesquite, the badlands of Texas, a river similar to the Red River in Texas, but the plains of Kansas as well. Then too, it was necessary to have a railroad. After 15,000 miles of air travel and intensive searching over a two month period, the Red River location site was finally found deep in the cattle country of Arizona, 40 miles from the Mexican border, 60 miles south of Tucson, and holding within a 50 mile radius, all the scenery necessary for the picture. The site chosen was Elgin, Arizona, which normally has a population of seven.

While audiences who see Red River will be enthralled by its great spic-historical and spectacle beauty, few will realize what the location crew actually had to do. Cattle had to be moved in trucks for ten solid days. They had to be watered, fed and driven. This took a total personnel of 300. The San Pedro River had to be re-routed. This was a four month job and included the building of five dams—all of which were washed out once by flash-floods and torrential rains.

Red River is the first Howard Hawks production for Monterey Productions. It is released by United Artists. Its total cost judged over the $3,000,000 mark. The picture stars John Wayne, Montgomery Clift, Walter Brennan, and Joanne Dru. Assisting are Harry Carey, Sr., Harry Carey, Jr., Noah Beery, Jr., John Ireland, Paul Fix, and Coleen Gray.

Mr. and Mrs. Grady Stidham, Mrs. John Lane Baskin and Mr. and Mrs. Grady Stidham, Jr. of Waco visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Newton at Sherman the past week end.

Mrs. Kate York is in Galveston where she is receiving medical attention. Her friends wish her a speedy recovery.

TEXAS POWER & LIGHT COMPANY

LOCAL UNIT DEPARTS SUNDAY AUGUST 15

By LLOYD ALBERTSON

Battery C, 239th Field Artillery Battalion, is making final preparations to attend the Texas National Guard's two-weeks summer camp beginning August 15th at Camp Hood, Captain Rudolph Michalka reported Wednesday.

Thirteen enlisted men of the battery are scheduled to attend. They are: S-Sgt. Julian Arnold, Cpl. Mainrod Mraz, Pfc. Peter Kunz, Pvts. Jimmy McGoldrick, Gorden Zercher, Harold Taegel, George Hollas, Eugene Mitchan, Orvin Hixman, Denson Crouch, Bose Robinson, James Caywood, Johnny Kamenicky.

Plans call for Battery C to make the trip in its own vehicles, joining a convoy from Galveston, Houston and other points and proceeding through Temple to the camp. The battery's 105 mm. howitzer and small arms also will be taken. The training program schedules instruction and firing of the howitzer on the artillery range and also practice firing of small arms by all members of the unit on the rifle range.

Although training will be under actual field conditions, the men will be quartered in barracks and eat in mess halls. So it won't be necessary to "rough it", as was often the case in pre-war encampments.

Much interest is being shown in the camp, Capt. Michalka reported, since it is the first Texas National Guard camp in several years. Approximately 200 units from all parts of the state are scheduled to be represented and an estimated 8500 officers and men will participate.

60 Boys Out For Football Here

Sixty boys are out for football.

This is the largest number ever to report to a coach in the history of the sport in Cameron.

Coach Leo Jackson was greatly pleased. He said it will be an interesting season. Every boy who qualifies for the A squad will have an equal chance.

It will take weeks to shape a team. The varsity will be small. We won't have replacements and the team will be light, especially the line which with the exception of the tackles will be 10 pounds to the man lighter than 1947.

Mrs. Mattie Sheppard who spent several weeks visiting relatives in Houston and Baytown this summer, has returned to her home here.

Mr. and Mrs. Hollis B. Hairston of Rosebud were in Cameron Tuesday

Rita Hanel Is Named Queen of Milam County Farm Bureau

The person who said there's nothing prettier than a farmer's daughter certainly knew what he was talking about, especially when there are girls like Miss Rita Hanel, of Route 3, Cameron, Texas to back him up.

Miss Hanel was voted Queen of the Milam county farm bureau last week and will compete in the district contest in October to be held in Waco. From there, if she wins, she will go on to state, and then to the national contest to be held in Atlantic City, New Jersey in December. The winner of the farm queen contest will receive a $500 trip.

Miss Hanel is 18 years old, five feet, five and one half inches tall, and has dark brown eyes and hair, and weighs 129 pounds.

She graduated from Yoe high school at Cameron in June, where she was a member of the Y-Teeners Club, a high school orgaization; the music club; and she also played a cornet in the band.

Miss Hanel, to use her own words, said she didn't expect to win, and was very surprised that she won.

And how does it feel to be elected queen? Says Miss Hanel: "It's wonderful. It's the first time that anything like this has happened to me."

However, she has doubts about winning in the district contest. "I probably won't get any farther than this," she said.

But apparently the judges of Milam county farm bureau, who are members of the board of supervisors have different ideas. Of the fourteen votes cast, Miss Hanel received eight; the remaining six being divided among the other three contestants. They are Miss Dorothy Tomek, of Elm Ridge; Miss Mary Ann Glenn of Jones Prairie; and Miss Olivia Lehman, of Buckholts.

And not only was Miss Hanel pleased, but also were her father, mother, four brothers, and four sisters. Her sisters are Dosithea, 21; Jo Ann, 16; Anna Marie, 14; and Imelda, 11. Her brothers are Herman, 22; Clarence, 24; George, 26; and Anton, 28.

Miss Hanel's future plan is to find a job as a bookkeeper, preferably in Cameron.

Mr. Hanel owns the Cameron Machine Shop, where three of his boys help him. He also farms 315 acres of land, but specializes in cattle.

The beauty queen contest is being sponsored by the farm bureaus throughout the nation for the purpose of honoring womanhood on the farm.

Miss Hanel was chosen on beauty, personality, and figure and vivaciousness.—Temple Telegram.

Mr. and Mrs. Mac Dunham and daughter Roxanne of Houston are spending a few days this week in the home of his sister, Miss Bessie Dunham and other relatives in Cameron.

LELIA McANALLY BATTE

Mrs. Batte, author of "The Master of The Sycamores," a novel of patent historical background, has written a number of poems and some have recently been published while others are on editor's desks for study.

Mrs. Batte is now working on a history of Milam county. Here is a poem inspired by the return of war dead:

SACRIFICE

Silently, our flag-covered boys come home again
They are returning to the land of living men,
Men who argue over politics, bread and gain
Men who can never know their deep agony and pain.
Brave and calm were their hearts when they went forth to die
When their country called them; they hastened to comply
But now, silently, they are coming home again
Ask ourselves this question—Have these boys died in vain?

Twice, our finest boys have gone to make people free,
Twice, we had no lasting peace; it was a mockery!
Dearest dreams died with them; their bodies are but dust
Our debt is heavy; let us be true to the trust.
When men live by the Golden Rule, wars can never be
Life will be lived another way, quite happily
But now, silently, they are coming home again
Let us ask ourselves; Have we let them die in vain?

DROUTH IS RUINING PROSPECTS IN COUNTY

A total of 1380 bales of the new 1948 crop of cotton had been received at the Cameron Compress it was revealed by P. W. Davis, manager, early Friday.

Mr. Davis said that the continued dry weather was having a bad effect on prospects and unless rain comes quickly the harvest season will be short.

The peak in marketing the new crop may come within the next 10 days if no rain falls. Rain would revive growth and production in the cotton fields. Continued heat will blast those prospects.

It has been estimated that the crop this year is not more than 65 per cent normal meaning that the crop would amount to some 22,500 bales. If no rain comes it will be much shorter.

It Was 113 Degrees In Cameron on August 18, 1909

The highest temperature ever recorded in Cameron was on August 18, 1909 when the themometer registered 113 degrees.

L. W. Smith of the Community Public Service company, local government observer, has obliged the Daily Herald by disclosing this record.

At that time the record was kept at Cameron High School by J. A. Walls. Now the record is kept at the offices of the water company and have been so kept for years.

August has consistently been the hottest month of the year.

The 1909 record discloses that on August 15 it was 105 degrees, August 16 it was 106 degrees and on August 17 it was 107 degrees. Then the temperature jumped to 113 degrees on August 18. On that day the record shows that Cameron received .07 inches of rain and after that the temperature hovered in the 90's and on September 30th it was only 49 degrees.

August 13, 1909, Cameron received 1.35 inches of rain. On August 10 the temperature shot up to 110 degrees and Cameron had .18 inches of rain. In all Cameron recorded some 2 inches of rain in August of 1909.

The torrid weather continued through 13 days in September when the temperature never got below 100 and on the 11th reached 105 degrees.

So when you hear a weather weary big shot of the sidewalk life in Cameron say "This is the hottest day I ever spent," the chances are he was alive in 1909. If not he should go look at the record.

"Miracle of the Bells" At Cameron Theatre Thursday and Friday

Eagerly awaited by film-goers, the Jesse L. Lasky-Walter MacEwen production of Russell Janney's "The Miracle of the Bells" comes Thursday to the Cameron Theatre with Fred MacMurray, Valli and Frank Sinatra co-starring in the appealing story of an actress' pathetic last wish and its surprising fulfillment.

Russell Janney's popular novel still high on the best-seller lists, is produced as an absorbing piece of entertainment. MacMurray has the role of the Hollywood press-agent who brings an obscure actress to short-lived fame, and after her death takes her body back to her native Pennsylvania coal-mining town for a sensational burial. Sinatra portrays the sympathetic priest of the little church there.

Valli, the talented Italian actress, makes her second American appearance, as the Polish heroine whose dying request has startling results. Lee J. Cobb and Harold Vermilyea are featured in support.

The press agent's effort to get the girl nation-wide recognition by tolling all the church bells in town for three days, leads to the stirring climax in the crowded church when the "miracle" occurs that gives the story its title.

Ben Hecht and Quentin Reynolds wrote the screenplay for the RKO Radio release, and the picturesque settings include Hollywood studios, offices and apartments, mid-western theatres, and the dingy structures of Coaltown.

Temperature Drops To 100 Degrees

Temporary relief from the extreme heat of the past 10 days came Monday. It was only 100 degrees, two less than the torrid 102 degrees Sunday.

It was still lower Tuesday, perhaps 95. The cool mass of air ushered in the first little norther of the year. However, it is going to be hot again.

North Texas had as low as 85 and down in South Texas some rain had fallen. Except for the hot days in September the summer is practically over.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Hanes and son, Billy, have returned from a vacation trip to Colorado.

Salem Democrats Oppose Civil Rights Plank In Platform

Here is the resolution presented to the County Convention by the delegation from Salem opposing the National Platform declaration on civil rights and calling for a similar declaration at the state convention, and declaring for state rights:

Whereas: The National Democratic Party duely assembled in Philadelphia saw fit to break away from the Democratic principals as promulgated by our fore-fathers and followed by the party for generations, and

Whereas: We are opposed to further encroachment by the Federal Government on the rights of the States guaranteed by the Constitution, as was proposed in the platform of the so-called Democratic Party, by their inclusion of the "Civil Rights" plank.

Therefore be it resolved by the Salem Precinct in conventio nassembled that we reiterate our belief in Constitutional government and the Rights of the several States as guaranteed by that Constitution, and that we join forces with other groups of like belief in order to promulgate this truly Democratic Principle.

And be it further resolved, That a similar resolution be recommended to the Milam County Convention for it's consideration and adoption, and that County Delegates be instructed to vote for the adoption of this resolution in the State Convention.

Voted this the 24th day of July, 1948. Salem Precinct Convention.

J. W. HOUSE, Chairman.
